Tenure-Track Faculty Positions at Assistant or Associate Rank

The Department of Health Services Policy and Management (HSPM), Arnold School of Public Health, University of South Carolina seeks qualified candidates for a tenure-track assistant or associate professor position, open specialty, to begin in Fall 2015.

The Arnold School of Public Health is accredited by the Council on Education for Public Health (CEPH). The Department is a full Graduate Member of the Association of University Programs in Health Administration (AUPHA) and offers a Master of Public Health degree, a Master of Health Administration degree (accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Management Education), as well as PhD and Doctor of Public Health degrees in Health Services Policy and Management. The Department hosts a rich portfolio of nationally and internationally funded research.

Qualifications: A promising record in original research, a commitment to quality teaching, and an earned doctoral degree in health services research, health policy, health care administration/management, health information systems, health economics or a related field are required. Applicants at the Associate level should have a record of external funding as well as an appropriate teaching and publication record. Applicants at the Assistant level must have at least one year of post-doctoral research and/or teaching experience.

Responsibilities: The successful candidate will be expected to develop an externally funded research program and collaborate with colleagues; teach undergraduate and graduate courses; advise and mentor students and fellows; and provide service to the University, profession, and community.

Salary: Commensurate with experience.

How to apply: A letter of application, curriculum vita, and electronic contact information for three references should be sent by e-mail, with HSPM Faculty Search in the subject line to HSPMSRCH@mailbox.sc.edu. Early applications are encouraged. Review of the applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Anticipated start date is August 2015.

The University of South Carolina is an affirmative action, equal opportunity institution. Minorities and women are encouraged to apply. The University of South Carolina is responsive to the needs of dual career couples.
