TENURE-TRACK FACULTY POSITION FOR SEXUALITY AND HEALTH

The University of South Carolina's Arnold School of Public Health invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position at the level of Assistant or Associate Professor for scholars interested in contributing to our research, teaching, and outreach on sexuality and health. Scholarly interests may include sexualities, sexual behavior, sexually transmitted infections, HIV/AIDS, teenage pregnancy, LGBT disparities, or other sexuality and health issues. We particularly invite applications from scholars with interest and experience in policy, advocacy, and/or programmatic aspects of these topics, and who will provide leadership in our engagement with community, state, national, and global organizations.

The position will be in the Department of Health Promotion, Education, and Behavior (www.sph.sc.edu/hpeb). The department is interdisciplinary, collaborative, energetic, and progressive. Applicants at the Assistant and Associate levels are expected to demonstrate, respectively, potential or achievement in scholarship and extramural funding. Applicants should possess a doctoral degree in health behavior or promotion, sociology, anthropology, policy sciences, psychology, or a related field.

To apply: Send letter of application, vita, a copy of two scholarly works, and contact information for three references to: Donna Richter, Ed.D., Search Committee Chair, c/o Memory Bacon, Department of Health Promotion, Education, and Behavior, Arnold School of Public Health, University of South Carolina, Columbia, SC 29208; Phone (803) 777-6255, Fax (803) 777-6290. Electronic applications may be sent to mroyal@sc.edu.

The University of South Carolina is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer. Minorities and women are encouraged to apply. The University of South Carolina does not discriminate in educational or employment opportunities or decisions for qualified persons on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, sexual orientation, or veteran status.
